“SONIC F1”
MINI SOLAR CAR KIT

Carson, CA December 10, - - - The perfect balance of aerodynamics, transmission, speed, and stylish design has made SONIC F1 the top prospect in the racing community. When equipped with the most power engine, the sun, Sonic F1 races at amazing speeds. It consumes no fossil resources making it an educational tool that teaches alternative energy concepts. Easy to build and fun to play. Have hours of fun experimenting with it in the sun. No batteries and tools required and less than 10 parts to assemble.

If a Make-it and take-it type product is what you are looking for, this hands-on speedster will make you the local hero. Their research team has found a distinct liking in educational programs such as After School, summer and Vacation programs. A great self-contained take-home project for boys or girls clubs! Let show the kids how truly engaging science can be with OWI's new Mini Solar science kit.
